Rusty Wallace/Be Ready. Be buckled.

RUSTY: Out on the race track, a professional driver knows he's surrounded by other pro drivers.

ANNCR: NASCAR legend and racing champion Rusty Wallace.

RUSTY: When you drive a truck for a living, the only professional around might be you.

SFX: BIG RIG DIESEL REVVING, UP-SHIFTING ONTO HIGHWAY

RUSTY: All the more reason to buckle up, every trip, every time. Because out on the highway, trouble can come from anywhere. It can happen in a heartbeat. If you're ever in an accident, the smartest – and safest place for a trucker to be – is behind the wheel, secure, in control of your truck, looking out for yourself and everybody around you. Without your safety belt, you could easily get bumped out of position. And that means out of control. Trust me, that's not good on the track. It's not good on the highway. So be ready, be buckled. Remember, you're the professional. The one who drives...for a living.

ANNCR: A public service message from the U.S. Department of Transportation.
