Montana	DOI/MVD CDL Helpdesk PO Box 201430 Helena, MT 59620	YES 406-444-1987	cdlhelpdesk@mt.gov	As of January 30, 2014 all commercial drivers who hold a CDL in Montana needed to have Self-Certified to their type operation of a CMV, and submitted a valid copy of their Medical Examiner's Certificate (MEC). If the Montana motor vehicle division did not receive these documents, the driver's licensing status would have been downgraded from "Commercial" to "Non-Commercial" status. If a commercial driver exclusively operates a CMV under one of the "Excepted" statuses, and they have have self-certified as "Excepted Interstate", a MEC does not have to be submitted.	All Intrastate and Non-Excepted Interstate CDL holders in Montana must keep a valid and current Medical Examiner's Certificate (MEC) with the Motor Vehicle Division. If a Commercial driver does not submit a new MEC on or before expiration date of their expiring MEC, their medical status will be changed to "Non-Certified" AND their CDL will be downgraded to "Non-Commercial". This action will be taken within 10-days of the MEC expiration date and the driver will no longer be valid to operate a commercial motor vehicle. The department may reinstate a CDL that has been downgraded under this law if, within the original term of the downgraded license, the person: o Submits a current Med Cert; or o Certifies to a change in operation status to "Excepted" Interstate. Medical certificates should be submitted by mail, fax or e-mail directly to the Medical Certification Central Office. Drivers should review their medical certificates for accuracy, legibility and completeness prior to submission. Incorrect, illegible or incomplete documents will be rejected. When submitting a medical certificate to the Medical Certification Unit by mail, fax or e-mail, CDL holders should be sure to include current contact information (phone number or e-mail address) with their document.	* CDL holders that fail to keep their medical certificate current become medically "not certified" when the medical certificate on file expires. A letter is sent to the driver advising them that they are "not certified" and that their CDL license will be downgraded in 55 days unless they submit an acceptable medical certificate to the CDL Med Cert Unit. If acceptable proof of medical certification is not received and processed within 55 days, the CDL is downgraded to a non-CDL license on the 56th day. Drivers have until the expiration date of their driver's license, and up to two years past the expiration date, to be recertified and obtain their CDL again without having to be retested. Two years past the expiration date of the CDL, all tests (knowledge and skills) must be retaken. Box 4087 Austin, TX 78773	512-424-2002	CDLMedCert@dps.texas.gov	If emailing Medical Certificate, we prefer PDF format.	Driver is downgraded to a "driver license" (DL). Driver may re-establish the CDL by visiting a Driver License office, certify to a medical status and provide a valid MEC/Variance (if applicable). Texas will waive the written and driving exams provided the DL has not expired. If the DL has expired the driver will be required to take and pass all CDL written/driving exams. The driver will also be required to pay the associated fee to upgrade the CDL.	CDL Help Desk	512/424-2600	CDLMedCert@dps.texas.gov

Wisconsin	YES Wisconsin DMV/BDOS PO Box 7995 Madison, WI 53707-7995	YES 608-261-8201	YES dre.dmv@dot.wi.gov	Any medical certificate sent into the department should have the driver's name and contact information included (like a phone number or email address) in case we have any questions. Incomplete or illegible certificates may be delayed in being entered on the record. Although we accept certificates by mail/fax/email, we would recommend that drivers use a new web application. They can sign into the application from www.wisconsincdl.gov . This application can be used to self certify and to upload a medical certificate. Certificates that are uploaded have to be in JPG, GIF, PNG, or PDF file types only and can't be over 5 MB. Any medical certificate that is emailed to the department will have to use the same file type and size restrictions used in the web application (JPG, GIF, PNG, or PDF file types only and can't be over 5 MB).	Driver would have to change their self certification to something other than Non-accepted interstate or provide an updated medical certificate to the department. Once the updates are made on the record, the CDL will be put back to a valid status. No tests are required.	Wisconsin DMV	608-264-7049	dre.dmv@dot.wi.gov
