MAKE BUCKLING UP A HABIT BY FOLLOWING THESE TIPS:

Buckle up, every single time

No matter the drive—how far, familiar, or simple—buckle up every time you get behind the wheel and before pressing the gas pedal.

Properly secure and inspect your seat belt

Secure the lap belt low across your hips and the shoulder belt centered across your chest. Verify it is completely mounted, latches securely, and retracts smoothly. Fully extend the belt to check for fraying, cuts, or damage.

Do a passenger safety check

Ensure every passenger riding with you has securely buckled their seat belt before hitting the road. It's required by law.

Set the safety standard

Commercial motor vehicle (CMV) drivers who buckle up every drive help normalize seat belt use.
